The Charleston News.

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 21, 1869.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

-Gold closed in New York yesterday dull and steady at 30.

-Cotton closed heavy and 4c lower. 3200 bales. Middling 261c. -Cotton in Liverpool closed quiet and unchanged. Sales 12,000 bales, of which 3000 were for speculation and export.

-Les extremes les touchent, The dog h gotten his tail in his mouth. The evangeli-cal churches in Boston and vicinity have appointed a committee to extend a public reception to Father Hyacinthe.

-We are promised still another instalment of the Byron controversy in the shape of a true account, written by the poet in 1816, of the difficulty between himself and his wife. The document is in the hands of Mr. Murray the great London publisher, and is announce to contain facts which will set at rest the excitement which Mrs. Stowe's article caused.

-The President has been in the receipt o several letters from prominent men in the South, asking that he make a trip through the Southern States in the early part of November. He has replied that if his public duties will permit he will visit the Atlantic seabord States, required in Washington during the most of November.

-John Swanson, the proprletor of an extensive cotton factory near Stockholm, Sweden, has just purchased 12,500 acres of land in Dunklin and Stoddard Counties, Missouri where he will establish a colony and build a factory, mills, &c., to carry on the cultivation and manufacturing of cotton. The land selected is well adapted to cotton raising. Dunklin County will export this season seven to eight thousand bales, and Stoddard about five thousand. The enterprise will give employment to thirteen hundred families, part of whom are on the way from Sweden, and the remainder will soon follow,

-The Atlanta Era thus describes the vehicle which has recently been built in Boston for Bullock, the carpet-bag Governor of Georgia R. K. S. will take notice : "The carriage is a very substantial one, finished without gaudi ness that with exquisite taste, and is elegantly mounted with gold. On each door is the coatof arms of Georgia, and across it the letters 'B. B. B.' twined into a very graceful gold monogram. The harness is also gold mounted On the back-band and breeching appears an ornamental gold 'B.; also on the blinds and headstall of the bridles. The lamps are also gold mounted and the finest we ever saw on a carriage."

...The State Department at Washington has received a paper dated in the prison of Santlago de Cuba, July 29, and signed by eight Cubans, who are alleged to have been subscquently massacred by the troops at Jiguani. The signers say that after being examined on a charge of treason and found innocent, they have been informed that they are to be taken as prisoners to Bayamo, in violation of the from his own jurisdiction to another, and of of taxation! the order of General Caballero de Rodas, according to which they should, in case of its being thought advisable still to hold them have been placed at his disposal. They do not fear the result of a fair trial, but they fear the murderous violence of their guards on the lonesome road to Bayamo. They ask the consuls of England, France, Prussia and the United States, whom they address, to intercede for them with the Governor, and, in case any calamity befall the signers, to report the facto their respective governments. The paper was filed in the archives of the British Consulate, and the correctness of the copy is certifled by the consular representatives of the several nations.

-A very lively time was had at the New York Gold Room Saturday, the occasion being Mr. Jordan's report of the condition of the Ex change Bank. His remarks were delivered in a vehement manner and interspersed with curses and obscene language. The bank, he said, was willing to lose $260,000 in order to compromise the claims of certain creditors, and be thought that, after such a liberal offer the brokers ought not start a new clearing house. Should they do so, he would conside them "too d-d mean to live." He referred to the generosity of the bank in advance ing $4,000,000 to the street during the remany firms from absolute ruln. Mr. Jordan thought that on Wednesday he could make a definite statement of the affairs of the bank, and asked that he might be granted time. The general feeling seems to be in favor of Mr. Jo: dan, and the impression prevails to a very great extent that if allowed to go on in his own way, without legal interference, he will be able to bring the bank out of its difficulties. A meeting of the creditors of the the effect that those signing it would take no legal steps towards forcing the bank into bank- certain remedy, and as an experiment, a few ruptcy for ten days. This was signed by all present, and a committee of five was appointed o circulate it among the creditors generally for their signatures. It is believed that at to be seen in either of those cities. These the bank will sign it. During the meeting it was announced that the injunction against the bank had been so modified as to allow the re- cost, by any of the steamers of our regular colver to collect money due the bank and to

-Twelve ladies appeared to contest the prizes for equestrianism at the Decatur, Ill., horse fair last week, one of whom, Sallie Wil-kinson, of Nyantic, had her saddle removed, and mounted bare-back, just before the horses were sent off for a scrub race. The word was given, and in an instant every horse was under full run, the ladies were applying the whip, and the air was filled with hats, ribbons, laces, do so advantageous y for the bank.

and "fixins" which have no place on a race track. The maid of Nyantle gave her black horse the whip, and soon passed the rear iorses, and then the middle group, and was in the act of taking the lead when her horse stumbled and fell upon the grass at the edge of the track. She was up before him, how-ever, and had hold of his bridle, when four or five men sprang over the guard and held him while she mounted from the ground. As the horses were nearing the grand stand the lady riders cut the air with such swiftness that their long skirts floated over the backs of the horses. For some distance now no change had taken place, each doing her level best, except with the Nyantle maid on the bare-back steed, who quickly took advantage of the clear space on the pole side, and rapidly passing one after another, came under the string neck and-neck with the third horse, and only a length of the lead. The young men cheered and yelled; the young ladies applauded with their fans and kerchiefs, while the tears ran while the talck tongues in their choking throat murmured in broken syllables, "Nyantic!" As she rode back on her foaming steed, al covered with dirt by his fall, and her clothes torn almost in shreds, the grand stand resounded with the cheers of thirty thousand volces, and the surrounding groves prolonged the echo.

Promises to Pay.

If a more consummate humbug than Sen ator Charles Sumner can be found in this country, he ought to be produced. Until then, we shall humbly confess that the Bay State has put on exhibition our greatest natural curiosity in finance and politics. Take for illustration his conduct in the Alabama case, which his recent speech at Worcester naturally recalls. Mr. Sumner manipulated this case, ostensibly in the interest of international right, but really to wring the largest practicable amount from England for her prompt recognition of the de facto Confederate Government. The reader will re member how he sent off Mr. Reverdy Johnson with his blessing; how he prepared his way in England by a letter of the highest commendation to Mr. John Bright; how he warmly approved of the Johnson-Clarendon treaty, as "The Nation" testifies; and finally, how he made an unexpected bolt, and, like Oliver in the story, threw the English poorhouse into a ferment of rage by giversation and extravagance was simple enough: Mr. Sumner wanted to fill the treasury with English gold, and the more of it the better. But now that he wants Cuba he forgets the Alabama speech, and takes but that he fears that his presence will be the precise ground upon which England stands in self-justification against his own charges. After the shrewd remark that "there is a maturity wherein colonies, like "fruits, drop from the parent tree"-(was the hint intended for Canada also?)-he said, that the Cuban belligerents may properly be "recognized as a de facto government "when they have cities, towns, a govern-"ment, ports, tribunals of justice and prize "courts." True enough, most sapient senator; but what then becomes of your Alabama claims?

It is amusing to see the contortions of the senator over his financial puzzle. He covets the golden key of the Antilles, he sympathizes with the insurgents, and he canno grasp the coveted prize unless he induce the Republicans to recognize them as belligerents. This problem is easy enoughno recognition, no Quba. But then, if there be recognition, either the Alabama claims must be discredited, or, demanding under disadvantage payment from Great Britain, ve must pay Spain in like manner for the damages we inflict, upon her property and commerce. No wonder the senator bites his nails and grumbles: "We must wait."

But the people will not wait always. They get tired after awhile of tricks of expediency and flowers of rhetoric. They desire something more than Mr. Boutwell's assurances and Mr. Sumner's fluent declamation. Woe to the Republican party if they do not make a better provision for the country at the next session of Congress-if they do not institute prompt and efficient measures to law, which forbids the transfer of a prisoner lighten and to equalize the crushing burden

A Prophet Without Honor.

Mr. City Attorney Corbin-State Senator and United States District Attorney-decides that the Harbormaster's fees provided for by city ordinance cannot be legally collected, and that the ordinance authorizing them is unconstitutional and void. Considering that it was Mr. Corbin who did most of the dirty work in putting the present Mayor and Aldermen in their seats, it was to be expected that his decision would be received with profound respect. But Councils are woefully ungrateful. When the opinion was read a motion was at once adopted to go on with the collection of fees, and Alderman Barrow sald: "He was sur-"prised that the man whom Council had 'elected as its attorney should have written such an opinion. A blind man could see thow clear the law was upon the dues upon 'tonnage."

It is bad enough for a lawyer to have his official opinion treated as so much waste paper, but how does Mr. Corbin feel when his legal lore is laughed to scorn by Alderman David Barrow ?

English Sparrows for our Sea Islands.

Our sea islands are yearly devasted by caterpillars, and while many means for their destruction have been suggested, the English sparrow has escaped notice. It is well known that two years ago the shade trees of New York and Boston were infested with worms, which gave great annoyance by bank was held, and a paper was drawn up, to dropping on persone passing under them. The English sparrery was suggested as the were imported, which rapidly increased in numbers, and completely cured the evil, so pretty and sprightly little birds can be easily imported from Liverpool at an insignificant line, would rapidly increase, and in a very effect settlements in all cases where he could few years be in sufficient numbers to do serious injury to the destructive caterpillars. Our climate being mild, they would not need any of the household protection given thom at the North, and they being small insignificant birds would be secure from destruction by negroes, who also would soon learn their great usefulness. It would be well for our planters to give the introduction of these birds their attention,

The Louisville Convention.

A paragraph going the rounds of the Southern press, professing to explain the reason of the appointment of Georgians to represent South Carolina in the Louisville Commercial Convention, does not show the true reason for what, under the circum stances, was a generous and proper pro ceeding.

The following gentlemen were delegates rom Charleston to the convention at Louis ville: Wm. Matthiessen, E. E. Davis, J. D Womack and F. C. Davis. They arrived at Louisville after the standing committees had been appointed, and found that their place had been filled by Georgians, who had volunteered to represent the Palmetto State in he unavoidable absence of her own people. The Charleston delegates were expected to arrive soon after the organization of the con cention, and as the Georgians were anxiou hat its next session should be held in Charleston they were determined that South Carolina should have a voice in council and lebate. For this our warm thanks are duo the citizens of our sister State.

When the Charleston delegates arrived they were cordially welcomed, especially by the Georgia delegation, who assured the new comers that they had done their best to give adequate expression, in the convention and in committee, to what were believed to be the most important interests of our city and State. The Charleston delegation thank ed them warmly for what they had done, and assured them that their conduct would be heartily approved of by the commercial men of South Carolina and Charleston.

The delegation from this city served upo only one committee—that to fix the place where the next session of the convention should be held. Upon consultation with the Georgia delegation, and with others, they found that Charleston had not strength enough to obtain a decisive vote in her favor, and gave their votes to Cincinnati which city was ultimately chosen.

The delegates from the West and South expressed much gratification in learning that Charleston had had a larger trade this fall than in any previous season since the war. They hoped that she would attain the commercial importance which was her due, and only regretted that they had not the pleasure of meeting a larger delegation from his State.

We doubt not that what our contempo rary, the Courier, is pleased to call "a wild 'goose chase," will largely, though indirectly, benefit the commercial reputation of
